Is Life Worth Living?

That depends upon the Liver. If the Liver is inactive the whole system is out of order—the breath is bad, digestion poor, head dull or aching, energy and hopefulness gone, the spirit is depressed, a heavy weight exists after eating, with general despondency and the blues. The Liver is the housekeeper of the health; and a harmless, simple remedy that acts like Nature, does not constipate afterwards or require constant taking, does not interfere with business or pleasure during its use, makes Simmons Liver Regulator a medical perfection.

I have tested its virtues personally, and know that for Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Throbbing Headache, it is the best medicine the world ever saw. Have tried forty other remedies before Simmons Liver Regulator, and none of them gave such temporary relief, but the Regulator not only relieved but cured.

NEW LONDON IN WAR.

The Strategic Value of a Connecticut City in the Defense of New York.

Navy officers who have studied the region have often and urgently pressed upon their department the importance of developing the station at New London and making it efficient. One must admire their energy and faithfulness in continuing to lay before their superiors the vital importance of strengthening this strategic base in the outer defense of New York in the face of long continued pigeonholing of reports. That their anxiety is not unfounded becomes plain when we consider that Great Britain has a powerful station at Halifax, from which, if so disposed, she could hurl her thunderbolts of maritime war upon this unprotected spot at very short notice, precisely as she could cut our South Atlantic mail from the Bahamas. She may never even wish to do either thing, but isn't it rather foolish to remain unprepared for the blow when we have ample resources for re-establishing a guard against it?

The amount of trade that passes through Long Island sound coastwise is hardly conceived of by the majority of citizens. It amounts to a great many million dollars a year, and all this trade could be paralyzed by a quick stroke from a foreign navy. In 1880 the entire munitions of war manufactured in the United States amounted to $11,000,000. Of this total, $9,000,000 worth was manufactured in Connecticut alone. A foreign fleet in the sound, therefore, would be able to deprive us of our main source of munitions without even attempting to attack New York.

Out of a city's supply of air and what would it matter whether that city surrendered or not? Shut off from New York in war time nine elevenths of the material it needed for war and it would be as helpless as a city without air to breathe. But this is not all. An enemy in the sound could cut at New London and again at New Haven, the chief lines of land communication and railroad transportation between New England and New York.

If of the loss which would thus be caused a small percentage were now to be promptly applied to building up New York's outer line of defense, with a strong navy yard at New London as its base, the whole cost would be defrayed in a few years without inconvenience to any one. In time of action, while our battle ships and cruisers patrolled the Race or engaged the enemy, with support from the forts, our monitors, emerging from New London, would lurk safely behind Fisher's island, prepared to assist; for there again, on the north face, nature favors us with the sheltered waters of Hay harbor and West harbor. In case of injury, vessels could quickly run into New London, and repair at the navy yard. Thus, while the surroundings and topography are not the same as those of the entrance to the Mediterranean, we should still have what might well be called "an American Gibraltar," quite as invulnerable as the stronghold at the pillars of Hercules, and much greater in range.

Boston can be equipped effectually to defend herself; and Newport also, if fortified, is in a position to ward off an enemy. But neither of these, by so doing, can help to defend New York. New London, on the other hand, if her naval advantages are utilized, can repel any attack on New York from the east, and thereby relieve the metropolis from dread in that quarter. It is well, it is indispensable, to protect New York from assault by way of the Narrows. But what will it avail to bar that small front door if the broad rear entrance through the sound be left undefended?—G. P. Lathrop in Harper's Weekly.

A Chance for a Fortune.

There survive in this city a few hand cork cutters who still contrive to make a sort of living in competition with the cork cutting machines and the peasants of Catalonia. One of these men hangs out a curious sign in an east side street. It is a glass case containing the model of a house all of cork. It is possibly the house that Jack built, for there are bits of cork to simulate bags of grain. The factory is a shed in the rear of an ordinary dwelling house. Here, with the aid of some simple machinery, the cork cutter manages to eke out an existence. His chief grievance is the competition of machinery and the problem of disposing of the waste.

Light as cork is, tons of clippings accumulate, and although various uses have been discovered for this refuse, it brings little or nothing when sold, and constantly accumulates. There is a comfortable little fortune for the man who shall devise some really profitable use for cork clippings.—New York Sun.

How They Got Along.

A Nantucket woman tells of the annoyance to which the Mitchell household was subjected, after the daughter, Mari Mitchell, became famous, at the hands of two importunate tourists. Its privacy was so persistently and unwarrantably invaded that its members felt occasionally that politeness ceased to be a virtue. One persistent woman, who got herself admitted on a shabby pretext, so wearied a sister of Miss Mitchell, into whose hands she fell, that when the woman wound up with, "And what do you do in this dull town after the tourists are gone?" the other replied, with a drawl natural to her, "Oh, we cut off our coupons."—Exchange.

A Race for a Wife.

South Brown street, from Jackson street to the navy yard gate, was the scene of a foot race the other day, the prize being the pretty daughter of a sailors' washerwoman. For some time Barney Burns, a marine, and George Lindsay, a sailor on board the receiving ship St. Louis, which is stationed at League island, have been enamored of the bright eyed daughter of the woman who does their washing. The men were friends and the girl's affections seemed to be about evenly divided on the two ardent lovers. How to decide with which of the two she should cast her lot was a difficult problem, but the happy thought of a foot race presented itself.

The arrangements were perfected and at 9 o'clock the contestants appeared upon the course, which was two miles long, accompanied by a large crowd who had been advised of the contest. Burns stands 6 feet 8 inches in height and weighs about 200 pounds, while his opponent, Lindsay, is little and willowy; and the sports in the crowd were not long in determining upon the latter as the favorite.

At the crack of the pistol the lovers were off at a rapid gait, and until the tracks of the Greenwich Point extension of the Pennsylvania railroad were reached the lead lay tight between them. The pace told upon Burns' wind, however, and he dropped behind, and when Lindsay reached the end of the goal his competitor was not in sight. The washerwoman's daughter will now become Mrs. Lindsay.—Philadelphia Record.

English Fortifications in America.

John Bull is preparing to make things pleasant for us. He has been of late especially active in strengthening his outposts near the United States. Six of the most powerful modern warships are to be sent to the North Atlantic squadron, the summer headquarters of which are at Halifax and the winter quarters Bermuda. Halifax is close to the American line and only 800 miles from Boston. Bermuda is only 600 miles from New York and is heavily fortified.

At Port Royal in Jamaica, within one day's sail of Florida by steamship, Mr. Bull has some very powerful batteries. On the little island of St. Lucia he has a dry dock, a naval station and a heavy battery commanding one of the approaches to the mouth of the proposed Nicaragua canal. On all these strongholds money is now being spent. We all know about the arsenal, naval depot and fortifications at Esquimaux, and the warships in these waters. Uncle Bull has industriously fortified his outposts as near as possible to the United States.

The increased activity in this work is only two or three years old. It must be costing a great deal of money. It manifests a very friendly interest in our welfare and shows that our jolly old uncle has his benevolent eye on us. We shall have to watch Uncle Bull, too, in the friendliest way. We must not let him catch us in police attention.—Boston Journal.

Recovered a Bank Note.

Recently a woman residing in South Shields was leaving the postoffice, and in passing along Koppell street, near the South Shields police headquarters, she tore up a five pound note, under the impression that it was an ordinary piece of paper. She did not discover her mistake till the evening, whereupon she informed Chief Constable Moorhouse of the unfortunate circumstance. It being very dark, a number of police officers were set to work with lanterns, and after a good deal of labor succeeded in collecting in different parts of the street a number of pieces of the note. These were pasted onto a sheet of paper, and application was made to a Newcastle bank, but the patched up note being refused there, it was sent to London to the Bank of England, and by return of post a new five pound note was received by the woman, who showed her gratitude for the efforts of the police by sending a contribution, which has been placed to the credit of a private police fund.—London Tit-Bits.

Hunter Sam Fugh's Error.

Sam Fugh, of this city, was quite seriously hurt near Stillwater, O. T., a few evenings ago. With a party of young men he was out moon hunting. They chased an animal several miles, thinking they were trailing a coon, and when the animal was tired, Fugh climbed the tree to knock it down. In the darkness he could not see but what it was a coon, and he climbed up close to it and struck it. To his surprise he found the animal was a large and ferocious wildcat, which flew at him, biting and scratching him in a horrible manner, and causing him to lose his hold and fall to the ground. In his fall he struck a limb, fracturing three ribs and inflicting other severe bruises. He will be confined to his room for some weeks with his injuries.—Kansas City Journal.

The Moose Invited Death.

A bull moose was recently shot in the Maine woods which had nine prongs on one horn and eight on the other, the spread at the antlers measuring five feet. The animal apparently courted death, for, while the hunter who shot him was asleep by his camp fire, in the middle of the night the animal came up and smelted him over and awakened him.—Philadelphia Ledger.

It is believed that a well planned system for preserving the breeds of cattle, horses and dogs throughout all Canada will be soon taken in hand by the administration. This would add greatly to the value of the permanent "living plant" of the people and to "practical police" in the best sense.

A trained bat belonging to William Heister, of Spring Hill, Pa., conveys messages like a carrier pigeon. Its speed is very great—more than two miles a minute. It recently flew a mile in 37 seconds.

"German Syrup"

Here is an incident from the South—Mississippi, written in April, 1890, just after the Grippe had visited that country. "I am a farmer, one of those who have to rise early and work late. At the beginning of the winter I was on a trip to the City of Vicksburg, Miss., where I got well drenched in a shower of rain. I went home and was soon after seized with a dry, hacking cough. This grew worse every day, until I had to seek relief. I consulted Dr. Dixon who has since died, and he told me to get a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. Meantime my cough grew worse and worse and then the Grippe came along and I caught that also very severely. My condition then compelled me to do something. I got two bottles of German Syrup. I began using them, and before taking much of the second bottle, I was entirely clear of the cough that had hung to me so long, the Grippe, and all its bad effects. I felt tip-top and have felt that way ever since." PETER J. BRIALS, Jr., Cayuga, Hines Co., Miss.

THE SAN FRANCISCO SMUGGLERS.

Newberger, Reiss & Co., San Francisco, who were caught smuggling woolen goods into the country, have paid $70,000 into the United States Treasury. This, it is supposed, will satisfy the claims against them, and it is believed the civil suit will be dismissed. One or two of the members of the firm have, however, been indicted for smuggling, but whether, like the bootleggers, they will be able to get the courts to quash the indictments, is yet to be determined.

How long the firm had been engaged, through the connivance of dishonest customhouse officials in defrauding the revenue, is not known to the public, as the crookedness was only discovered by accident. Last September one of the several cases of goods marked cottons fell from a tray and burst open. The contents of the case proved to be high priced woolen goods, on which the duty was ten times more than on cotton. The whole consignment was seized, as were several subsequent consignments, and all proved to be invoiced as inferior goods.

It was ascertained that D. M. Cashin, a Deputy Collector of Customs at the port of San Francisco, inspected the invoices and marked the cases, which were to be opened at the custom house to determine the quality of the goods. He was thoroughly conversant with the business and never made a mistake. He invariably marked for inspection the few boxes of cotton goods which came with each consignment.

Deputy Cashin was one of the most patriotic Republicans in San Francisco. He was prominent in political clubs and conspicuous in political parades. As became a custom house officer, he contributed liberally to campaign funds, denounced the opposition as free traders who would ruin the country and bring wages down to the level of the pauper prices of Europe. Mr. Cashin's strong card since the bloody shirt bugaboo ceased to frighten intelligent people, has been "protection to American industries," and his method of protecting them was to admit high-priced woolsens, on which there is a high tariff, as cheap cottons, on which the duty is merely nominal. Though a sworn officer of the Government, paid a handsome salary for protecting not only the revenue, but the merchants who honestly paid it on their invoices, no attempt, so far as is known, has been made to prosecute him, though his crime certainly deserves severe punishment than that of Newberger, Reiss & Co.

SENATOR JONES' VIEWS.

Senator John P. Jones, who is at Santa Monica with his sick wife, has been interviewed on some important questions. The Senator says he has grave fears of the cohesiveness of the Senators who ought to favor free coinage, especially Paddock and Manderson of Nebraska, and some of the Senators from the Dakotas. There is no doubt that a silver bill can be passed in both houses of Congress, but Senator Jones has come to the conclusion that it is very problematical if such a bill could be passed over Harrison's veto. There are many Senators whose views are the same as those of Senator Jones on the silver question, yet he is satisfied they would not create a rupture by voting a second time for a bill which the President had sent back.

Senator Jones expressed great regret that any controversy had arisen between the United States and Chili, and he thinks the policy of the nation should be one of gentleness and patience. This country should have recognized the fact of the unsettled condition of Chili after the civil war, and should have taken into consideration the fact that there was no well-established government and that mob rule had not yet been supplanted by the civil authorities at the time of the Baltimore incident.

The Senator dwelt upon one feature of Senator Matta's letter. In the New Orleans affair, Italy took the ground that her subjects in this country were entitled to more consideration than our own citizens. Blaine, in his correspondence with Rudini, showed the untenability of this view, and Senator Matta, in his expression about the Baltimore case, very neatly makes an application of Blaine's argument.

Regarding the Behring Sea question, the Senator says the impression at Washington is that Blaine is not enough of a lawyer to have conducted the controversy properly, and that he has been overreached, which is, perhaps, the secret of the procrastination which has characterized the negotiations.

It is astonishing how much the Gazette knows about the intentions of the JOURNAL and the Eureka Sentinel, and yet it does not know its own mind well enough to say whether it will support a free coinage man for President against a gold bug. What the Gazette knows about other people and what it doesn't know about itself is one of the wonders of the age.

World's Fair Commissioners Banqueted. New York, December 21.—Delmonico's big banquet hall had no more distinguished or representative gathering this season than that which assembled to-night to participate in a dinner given by the New York State Commissioners of the World's Columbian Exposition, Depew, Thatcher and Allen. The feast was given to consider the Empire State's interests and duty in connection with the great event. There were a host of distinguished men present, including all of the principal officers of the exposition. Among those who sent regrets were Secretary Tracy, Vice President Morton and Mayor Grant. Speaking of New York, Depew said it was an insult to the intelligence of the State to ask what should be New York's place in the grand exposition. Speaking for the people of New York, he would say to the country that New York would be at the exposition, and be there in the full grandeur of her strength and development.

The Officials Reticent About Chilean Affairs.

WASHINGTON, December 21.—The officials of the State and Navy Departments observed a studied reticence to-day about Chilean affairs. It is learned, however, that no communications have been received from Chili by either department since Thursday last, when the Secretary of State received a long message from Minister Egan.

While no positive information can be obtained as to the character of the message, it is said to have reference to the refugees. It is understood that no action will be taken by this Government until officially advised by the Chilean authorities as to the result of the investigation in regard to the killing of the sailors.

A Bold Robbery.

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., December 21.—A daring robbery took place here about dark last night. A man armed with a shotgun entered the restaurant of H. Cassens at the car depot and compelled him to surrender all the cash in the house, amounting to $480. The robber then threw glasses at Cassens, knocking him down and severely cutting him. As Cassens is over 70 years of age, his condition is critical. A young man named Frank D. Slooff has been arrested on suspicion of being the robber.

A Blackmailer. CARSON, December 21.—G. M. Osgoodby, recently arrested here on a charge of blackmail while editing Better Times at San Jose, has confessed that he is the man wanted. He was living here under the name of Austin. Since being in Carson he has cut a wide swath. He is accompanied by a number of finely bred dogs. Desiring to go to Virginia to settle up, claiming that enough money was due him to enable him to pay Carson debts, Sheriff Moleford permitted him to go there to-day in charge of a deputy.

Diseased Horses Slaughtered for Family Beef.

WASHINGTON, December 21.—The Department of Agriculture announces that the inspectors on Long Island unearthed an abattoir at Newton Creek, devoted entirely to the slaughter of broken down and crippled horses. Many of these horses were diseased and some had glanders. Most of the beef was corned and put up for export as family beef. To-day the chief inspector of New York seized the entire lot of 75 carcasses and turned it over to the offal dock.

Decision Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, December 21.—The United States Supreme Court to-day, in an opinion by Justice Gray, affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of Peter J. Cassens and Frederick Simonds, convicted of embezzlement and "kiting" operations in connection with the Sixth National Bank of New York. It is said that counsel for the prisoners have under consideration the advisability of making an application for pardon.

On the Decrease.

WASHINGTON, December 21.—The net gold in the Treasury to-day is $129,650,389, a decrease of nearly $2,000,000 since the 10th instant. Receipts of customs at New York the first twenty days of this month show a decrease of $1,764,687 from the same period last year.

Severe Storms in Iowa.

DES MOINES, December 21.—Central Iowa was visited to-night by a severe storm. The streets of Des Moines are flooded. The mail is stopped, and travel for some time will be almost impossible.

Shot to Death by Masked Men.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., December 21.—A special to the Gazette from Dewitt, Ark., says: This morning a body of masked men entered the jail at this place and shot to death J. A. Smith, F. Gregory and Mose Henderson. Smith's wife had sued for a divorce and Smith had bribed the negro, Henderson, to murder her. He failed in this, was arrested and confessed. Gregory was Smith's son-in-law and believed to be implicated.

Mistress of Roble Hall.

MATFIELD, Cal., December 21.—Miss Ellen F. Thompson of the High School at Pasadena, has been appointed Mistress of Roble Hall at the Stanford University. Miss Thompson is a native of Michigan and a graduate of Oberlin College, and was for a number of years teacher of physics in the High School of Indianapolis. Since coming to California some five or six years ago, she has been prominent in educational matters in this State.

Powder for the San Francisco.

SAN JOSE, December 21.—A carload of powder from the Santa Cruz works arrived at the narrow gauge depot Sunday evening labeled "Benito Arsenal, Army Point. Rush." The patriotic railway employees were enthusiastic in the work of rushing, and in the shortest possible time it was transferred to the broad gauge depot and sent on its way. It is supposed to be for the cruiser San Francisco.

No Appropriation for the World's Fair. COLUMBIA, S. C., December 21.—The House voted to-day to recommit the bill making an appropriation for the World's Fair. So near the end of the session it is believed the bill is practically killed and private subscriptions must be depended upon to secure a representation at Chicago.

A Brave Old Man.

SANTA ANA, December 21.—Two Mexicans attempted to enter an old Mexican's house early Sunday morning with the supposed purpose of robbery, but were met by an old man with a club, and both were so badly stunned that they are not yet recovered. They are now in jail.

Wholesale Bank Suspensions.

SENATOR PLUMB DEAD.

Hon. Preston H. Plumb, United States Senator from Kansas, died in Washington Sunday night of apoplexy. The Senate adjourned yesterday as a token of respect to the memory of the deceased and appointed a committee to accompany the body to Emporia, Kansas, where the funeral will take place.

Senator Plumb was born in Delaware county, Ohio, October 12, 1837. He received a common school education and learned the art of printing. In 1856 he removed to Kansas, where he was admitted to the bar in 1861. In 1863 he was a member of the Legislature. He entered the army as Second Lieutenant of the Eleventh Kansas Infantry and served successfully as Captain, Major and Lieutenant Colonel of that regiment. He was elected United States Senator to succeed James M. Harvey and took his seat March 4, 1877. He was re-elected in 1883 and again in 1888.

Though representing an agricultural State in the Senate, he was an ardent advocate of free coinage and introduced a bill for that purpose, which passed the Senate and was defeated in Mr. Reed's House of Representatives. He was one of those four Republican Senators who opposed the McKinley bill.

As the Kansas Legislature, which last Winter elected Peter United States Senator, is not in session, it will devolve upon Governor Humphrey to appoint a successor to Senator Plumb, and were it not for the fact that John J. Ingalls has retired from politics he might be the choice, though as he was objectionable to the Farmers' Alliance, the Governor in deference to that party might not care to reopen the bloody sham by sending him back to the Senate.

The friends and patrons of the school are not only cordially invited, but earnestly requested to show their interest by their attendance. Nothing is more helpful to the teachers or more inspiring to the pupils than the sympathetic co-operation of the parent. The exercises, though held at the school, are not exclusive, and though special emphasis is laid upon the attendance of parents, all our friends will receive a hearty welcome. The Easter term will open on Monday, January 6, 1892.
JOZUA MARQUEN, Principal.

Hints for Christmas.

Don't ask your child what he wants unless you intend to give it to him. Though money makes the mare go it makes Santa Claus come.
Don't buy your best girl a present on the installment plan, as she might jilt you before you had made all the payments. Rub the price mark off the present unless it is an expensive one.
If you wish to surprise your girl never ask her what she would like for Christmas. When you have the Christmas tree up it doesn't mean that you have it fixed up. At Christmas time it is well enough to ape the English as far as the plum pudding is concerned.

Some persons never wish you a merry Christmas unless they will get something for doing so.

Santa Claus would never make a school-master. Whatever is good he puts at the foot of the stocking.

If we don't have baseball at Christmas we have the cricket on the hearth. The bachelor who puts his thumb into the boarding-house Christmas pie is apt to pull out a collar-button.—Judge.

Is He a Blackmailer?

Arrest of the Man Who Purchased Space in Holiday Editions of Several Papers.

The Carson Tribune of last evening says Sheriff Botsford of Ormsby county early last week received the following:

ARREST FOR EXTORTION!

G. M. Osgoodby, aged about 28 years, height about 6 feet 6 inches; has light moustache; will weigh about 250 pounds; is well proportioned; dresses well and is a glib talker. He was recently connected with a paper published in San Jose, Cal., known as "Better Times." Arrest and telegraph. I hold warrant.

GILES E. McDUGGALL, Sheriff.

San Jose, Dec. 12, 1901.

Sheriff Botsford was satisfied that a man giving the name of Austin was the person wanted. He claimed to be from New York and assisted the Morning News and Virginia Enterprise. He arrived at Carson from Virginia Saturday evening and was placed under arrest. He acknowledged being the man wanted, but instead of being locked up he was placed in charge of a special officer. The story goes that Osgoodby played a six weeks' newspaper engagement on the San Jose Better Times, and claiming to be possessed of a secret of one of the leading families of the Garden City, and intending to publish the same, extorted or blackmailed the family out of $400 to refrain from publishing the secret.

The Tribune says, that desiring to go to Virginia City to settle up with Campbell, claiming that enough money was due him to enable him to pay up his Carson debts, Sheriff Botsford permitted Austin (or Osgoodby) to go there to-day in charge of Pickler.

HYMNENAL.

A Nevada Girl Captures a Banker.

The Eureka Sentinel has the following relating to the marriage of a Eureka young lady, who is well known in Reno:

"On Wednesday evening last Morris S. Heeline and Miss Aggie Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hall, were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's parents on Spring street, Rev. Mr. Bellamy, of the Episcopal Church officiating. The bridesmaid and best man were her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Baker, of San Francisco. After the ceremony, amid the popping of champagne, the health and happiness of the happy couple were drunk many times over. Only the relatives and more intimate friends of the family were in attendance. The bride was becomingly attired in a handsome pure white silk dress and orange blossoms, with elegant bridal veil. The evening was pleasantly spent with music, singing and dancing. At 11 o'clock bounteous refreshments were served. The presents were numerous, costly and elegant."

"The bride is a born Nevada girl, and has hosts of friends in different parts of the State, and here at home she has always been a great favorite with all our people. The groom has resided here some years, and is Cashier of the Eureka County Bank, and is very popular. The newly made couple have the best wishes of this community for their future happiness and prosperity."

Interesting Exercises Yesterday Afternoon.

St. Mary's Academy closed yesterday afternoon for a two weeks vacation. The young ladies prepared an interesting literary and musical programme for the occasion. The rendering reflected much credit upon all who took part. The vocal solos were given by Miss Lillian Rease, a young lady who is possessed of a rich contralto voice. The pupils in instrumental music displayed talent, appreciation and careful training. To stimulate emulation Professor Haymanson, who conducts the musical department of the Academy, offered a prize to the beginners. The worthy contestants were the Misses M. Ivory, M. Huff, C. O'Brien, E. McKay and L. Hill, Miss Huff being the lucky one. The literary part of the programme was in keeping with all former exercises in the eleventh class without a flaw.

As the Sisters do not intend to have a Christmas tree, the day pupils were treated to confectionary and other holiday mementoes and went home feeling that for once that they were ahead of Santa Claus. Several of the young lady boarders left this morning to spend Christmas at their homes. Classes at the Academy will reopen on Monday, January 4, 1902.

THE BRUNER DECISION.

The People of California Deserve no Sympathy.

Counselor Jones in conversation with a JOURNAL reporter expressed the opinion that the people of California had no right to complain of their Supreme Court; that it was a Court of their own selection and that they should be held responsible and feel the remorse for their acts at the polls. That under the persuasive influence of Buckley, Chase, Conroy and McCord the voters made their choice, and having made it let them accept the Bruner and like decisions with apparent relief. This appears to be the extent of sympathy which is accorded those who take so little interest in the selection of the servants for the people at the elections and who permit a class of professional rounders to direct the nominees and to manage the affairs of State.

Information Wanted.

I desire the address of Charles Johnson (Svede), who carried mail from Kettle River to Superior, Wis., in 1860. I have matters of interest to him. Anyone giving any information as to his present address will be duly compensated.

You hear it constantly. People feel the draughts but they never think of the over-draughts upon nature which impair the digestive organs, and makes the use of Simmons' Liver Regulator necessary to effectively move the liver to action, and aid the digestive and assimilative powers of the body. The Regulator is the medicine for all disorders of the stomach. Try it and be convinced.

Milton M. Hupert and Mathias Thompson were committed to the Insane Asylum yesterday. They were examined by Drs. Mullen and Lewis, who pronounced them insane. Both were brought here from Verdi. Hupert had papers on his person showing that he had been in the Stockton Asylum, and also in the Government Insane Asylum near Washington, he being an old soldier. Thompson says he escaped from the Wisconsin Insane Asylum.
